FALL Season To Be Outside

Read and relax.

Much more than study can be achieved in the grass.

HOMECOMING

20,000 Watch Parade

Sunny autumn weather greeted more than 20,000 spectators who lined the streets to watch ISU's 48th Homecoming parade. The high stepping Redbird Marching band along with the colorful Coryphees led the route, followed by President and Mrs. Braden and other officials. Besides our band and the dignitaries, the parade included the Marine Color Guard, high school bands from 25 schools, decorated cars representing various ISU organizations, and of course, the traditional floats. There were thirteen floats this year featuring different storybook characters and rhymes in keeping with the "Mod Mother Goose" theme. The traditional Mother Goose rhymes were changed to a mod tempo. One of the prettiest floats in the parade was the Queen's float, designed and constructed by the sophomore class. The Queen and her court looked lovely as they waved atop the wings of a large Mother Goose. K.M.E. Math Club took first place honors in the mobile float division. Of the four walking float entries, Gamma Phi gymnastics fraternity won first place with circus clowns riding on unicycles.

Parade Delights Many

The Homecoming Queen for 1968 was Miss Sara Wright, a junior from Glen Ellyn, Ill. After all the interviews, campaigning, and voting, Sara successfully came out on top over a total of ten candidates who competed for this honor. Members of Queen Sara's court were Linda Carlson, a junior from Dwight, Ill.; Sharon Holland, a senior from Geneseo, Ill.; Carolyn Lauing, a senior from Naperville, Ill.; and Bonnie Shull, a senior from Springfield, Ill. It was a very busy week for the 1968 Homecoming Court as they attended various dinners and other functions held in their honor. These included cordially inviting everyone to attend the Homecoming game and dance. They also ate dinner at the various food centers in order to meet the students of Illinois State. Before the game, Queen Sara, her court, and their I Clubescorts were introduced to the crowd. Queen Sara cheerfully addressed the gathered spectators, welcomed everyone, and stated how glad she was to represent I.S.U. A record number of spectators filled the stands at Hancock field as ISU students, faculty, administration, and alumni turned out to cheer the Redbirds to a win over the Leathernecks of Western Illinois University.

Mod Mother Goose's Day

This year's Homecoming theme was "Mod Mother Goose" presenting a real decoration design challenge to the various dorms and co-ops. After a week of hard work on them, judging was held early Friday evening. The results were announced later that night after the Pep rally at the Entertainment Board special, the Roger Williams Show. The two first place prizes went to Hewett-Manchester with "The ISU Goose Who Lived in a Shoe," and El Adel's "Bye Baby Bunting." Second place honors went to Walker Hall's "Redbirds Boot the Leathernecks," and Dew Drop Inn with "Birds Crack the Leathernecks." Another area of competition during Homecoming was the Push-mobile Races held early Saturday morning. Al Azhar took the honors in their cart, "Slingshot," by running it over the course in thirty-one seconds. After the parade in the morning, over 20,000 people packed Hancock Stadium, establishing a new record for attendance at an ISU football game. In addition to the game itself, the Corphees, Marching Band, and Card Section gave extra color and snap to the pageant. The best part of the afternoon came as the Redbirds won their first Homecoming game since Coach Larry Bitcon came to ISU four years ago. The Homecoming play this year was Tennessee Williams's highly successful play, "The Glass Menagerie."

This was the addition to the Walker decoration after judging was over.

CHRISTMAS

Dances and Decorations

Christmas cheer was in the air as the campus busied itself with many yuletide activities starting with the annual Christmas tree lighting held in front of the University Union. In the women's residence halls, aglow with colored lights and smiling faces, bands played dreamy melodies, making each Christmas formal a night to remember. Back in the Union there was a touch of Christmas in the old English tradition. Talented singers and performers delighted hundreds who came to enjoy the annual Madrigal dinners. From Horton Field House came the beautiful strains of Handel's "Messiah" sung by the Community Choir. The laboratory schools were also full of merriment and expectation. Truly the hearts at Illinois State were filled with the season's joy.

ENTERTAINMENT BOARD A Host Of Stars At ISU

In 1968, the Illinois State University Entertainment Board made an effort to find celebrities and entertainment to suit a wide variety of tastes. It scheduled a series of regular Entertainment Board performances and also initiated three special shows for I.S.U. and the Bloomington-Normal community. Highlighting the fall semester were: the Electric Circus, presenting a medley of the performing arts through dance, electronic music, and a light show; "The Star Spangled Girl", a flashy musical by Neil Simon; and the Camerata Singers, whose music presented a cross section of America through choral arrangements of widely varied music. Three specials delighted students this fall when Henry Mancini, Roger Williams, and Andy Williams starred in three respective concerts in September, October, and November. The spring semester saw the comedy, "Cactus Flower," and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy directing. Each performance gave the students the opportunity to enjoy professional and quality entertainment at nominal costs.

The Camerata Singers brought precision choral work to the enthusiastic audience.

The Sound of Song

The tempos of a university is reflected through many aspects; one of these is music. The various choirs and bands of ISU presented many concerts throughout the year for the enjoyment of the students and faculty, and the community as well. The music of these organizations acted as a universal language to bring pleasure to both the performers and their audiences. Music was heard in all areas of campus life during the school year, from the Homecoming parade to the Thirteenth Annual Madrigal Dinner celebrating the Christmas season. Bringing the spirit of Christmas to ISU in the Old English tradition, the Madrigal singers presented a memorable evening of entertainment that all who attended will not soon forget. The many concerts performed by the other music groups at ISU provided a variety of musical entertainment. The audiences at these concerts appreciated the beauty and art of the music. On the ISU campus, there were many evidences that music is a vital part of our everyday lives.

LOWELL MASON MENC

The Appeal of Music

The Lowell Mason MENC Club, Music Education National Convention, is an organization on campus to provide opportunity and experience that will help its members in teaching music in class and in other activities. The organization is comprised of music majors, minors, or resources and is strictly self-supporting. Members had a hayride and held a candy sale to raise money. The highlight of the year was the club's own student directed and acted musical, "Sweet Charity," which met with success in every performance.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE Creativity At Work

With the obvious success of ISU's Repertory Theatre, the students and faculty of the University Theatre have attempted a new undertaking with the formation of a service group called the Guild. This organization, which includes all qualified theater students and faculty, hopes to be of service to the University Theatre and thus to the university in general. With Dan Heagstedt as its president and Charles E. Howard as sponsor, the Guild will provide an outlet for talent and interest in theater as well as develop pride in the discipline of the dramatic arts. This year, the Guild has provided ushers for the major stage plays, sponsored the dedication of Allen Theatre, and taken a large part in the remodeling of the University Theatre's Green Room. The theater itself has produced many plays this year, some of which were "After the Fall," "The Glass Menagerie," and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." Other plays included acting and directing thesis productions, and an original play, "In Emerald," written by ISU's own Lon Presnall.

The Jesters were organized to foster an interest and stimulate participation in theatre activities at ISU. The members put on a Banquet for the Speech Department and also had a representative member to the faculty board who helped plan plays to be presented at Illinois State.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

A Service Fraternity

APO conducted a penny-a-vote Ugliest Student contest and donated the proceeds to charity.

The Theta Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega promotes friendship, leadership, and service to both the community and the campus. During the first semester, APO sponsored USOC, Ugly Student on Campus Contest, the proceeds of which were given to the Crippled Children's Camp. The second highlight of the year was the annual APO Review, which was entitled "The Undergraduate—(Or How I Got Pinned to the Ivey Wall)." The money raised from this was donated to a local charity. To the delight and amusement of the spectators, APO members portrayed clowns in the Homecoming parade. Throughout the year, members sold programs at each of the concerts sponsored by the ISU Entertainment Board. They also held candy drives for both Mother's and Father's Day.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis is a group of about twenty members that finds a means of expression in modern dance. With each member doing his own routine, the group presented a concert in March employing various forms and styles of dance. Earlier in the year, Orchesis went on the road to bring their art to Clinton High School, and the three public high schools in Springfield, Ill. These tours were a benefit to both the high schools and performers.

VARUNAS

The main purpose of Varunas is to promote interest in swimming. Members must demonstrate ability in performing basic swimming strokes and aquatic art figures. Members both attended and competed in the national competition, which was held in Cincinnati this year. This year's annual Varuna Swim show was entitled "A Splash of Christmas." Twenty Varuna members and four men guest swimmers participated in the show. The show began with "The Meaning of Christmas" in which the thirteen swimmers formed a little angel. One of the duets, "Love on a Mountain Top," was performed to the music of "Love is Blue." All members of the Varunas cast participated in the finale, which was entitled "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer." The choreography for all the numbers was done by the Varunas members.

GAMMA PHI CIRCUS

Under The Horton Big Top

Once again the Gamma Phi Circus brought to campus a unique presentation of old and new acts. The honorary gymnastics fraternity returned in 1968 with such familiar acts as the trapeze, parallel bars, unicycles, ball act, vaulting, and tumbling. New acts to emerge this year were the foot revolve, cloud swing, and trick knife throwing. As always, there were clowns on hand to delight the crowd of young and old alike. Ringmaster Bob Lindsey, returning for his fourth year of excellent showmanship, announced the Queen's Court, which consisted of Carolyn Lauing, Gloria Nauyok, Jalaine Riechers, and Pam Flesher. Gamma Phi President Bob Court crowned Jean Palagi Queen of the 1968 Circus. Gamma Phi was initiated in 1928 by Dr. C. E. Horton, who was head of the department of Men's Physical Education at the time. Originally, Gamma Phi was a man's group that performed formal gymnastic routines. With the help of some circus families in the Bloomington-Normal area, the group's performance was expanded into a circus. Gamma Phi evolved into the group that it is today with the admission of women in 1941. Gamma Phi presents several road shows at regional high schools and has a spring picnic in addition to the annual Horton Big Top Circus.

STUNT SHOW

Hewitt-Manchester Win First Place

May brings spring, and spring means Stunt Show. This year, the University Men's Club presented its 49th Annual Stunt Show to an audience of enthusiastic students and mothers celebrating Mothers' Weekend. The performances, completely composed, designed, and constructed by students, represented weeks and months of effort. Tension was high as the judges announced the winners. Hewitt and Manchester were awarded the first-place cup for their show, "Stop the Computer—I Want to Get Off." For their first winning Stunt Show skit, the Hew—Man directors employed a serious theme and some special musical numbers which helped them to capture the prize. "The Taming of the Prude-or- What the Fell Are You Doing Here?", Tri-Towers' contribution, took second place, while Atkin-Colby's "Put It in the Book" won third.

For the second year in a row the football Redbirds of ISU can thank the Western Illinois Leathernecks for helping them again gain a share of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title. Illinois State lost out on a chance for a full share of the title as the Chippewas of Central Michigan barely defeated the Redbirds, 19-16, on a successful final goal. Western defeated CMU, though, in a situation familiar to last year to help ISU back into the championship. Both the Chips and the Redbirds finished the current season with 2-1 IIAC records. Backing into the crown was consolation for the Redbirds, who suffered a mild three-game losing streak during the season but pulled out of their tailspin to end the year on a winning note with a sweet victory over Bradley. The Braves had not lost to a State team in fifteen meetings till the Redbirds put them down by a 42-26 score this year. Illinois State lost its top two quarterbacks to graduation but Harold Olson made a successful conversion from split end to quarterback to help guide the Redbirds to their 6-4 season. Olson broke a school record as he racked up 1240 total offensive yards and scored nine touchdowns. Two former servicemen, Rudy Phillips and Bruce Cullen, were valuable to the Redbirds. Phillips, a versatile halfback, kicked extra points and field goals as well as catch passes for I State. Fullback Cullen broke a school record as he scored ten touchdowns. Another fullback, Jed Waters, covered a lot of ground for State as he gained 778 yards and led the conference in individual rushing. Waters missed the school rushing record by only thirty-six yards, as he missed the last game of the year because of an injury. Guy Homoly, who played both ways as an offensive and defensive halfback, was voted the Redbirds' most valuable player. His speed enabled him to lead the squad in punt returns, kick returns, and interception returns, as well as score five touchdowns. Hank Guenther and Dennis Nelson, two defensive stand-outs, were elected honorary co-captains. Gunther started as an offensive guard and Nelson went both ways as an offensive and defensive tackle. Nelson also collected honors by receiving Little All-American.

The young footballers of Illinois State finished the season undefeated. Coach Bill O'Neil's squad closed out their year by beating Joliet Junior College 48-6; the game was their highest scoring game of the season. O'Neil had a record number of players out for the sport and 80 freshmen were still out at the end of the season. Coach O'Neil cited all of his players as having potential, especially Joe Stieglitz, a top choice in State's recruitment program and a scoring whiz on the football field. The key to the success of the frosh footballers was their ability to play as a unit. Besides having a potent offense which scored 224 points during the seven game schedule, the defense held the opposition to only 41 points. Other names to remember of future varsity candidates include Pat Croker, Dave Nichols, Gary Button, Tony DeMayo, Ed Boehn, Bob Hoelterhoff, Jim Wiltz, Bob Koontz, Steve Kenyon, Bill Long, John Rank, Tyrone Cooper, Scott Hartmen, Jim Hall, Vince Lott, and Mike Graham.

With only one returning letterman on the squad, the Illinois State Cross Country team was lacking in experience but certainly not in talent. Coach Roger Weller's recruitment program began paying off as was evidenced by the great potential of the young team. Tony Edgecomb, the only returning monogram winner, and Alan Taylor, who won Little All-American honors, helped lead the ISU harriers to a successful season. The young squad consistently improved during the season and finished with an 8-3 record in dual and triangular meets. The Redbirds were seventh in the Illinois Intercollegiate meet, fourth in the very strong Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, and thirteenth in the NCAA college division finals. Taylor finished at or near the front during the entire season including an eighth place finish in the Intercollegiate meet, a fifth place in the IIAC run, and a ninth place in the NCAA meet. Weller cited the closeness of the team and their excellent attitude as well as their high ability in explaining the success of his squad. The outlook for next season should be even brighter, for the entire team will return for the next competitive season.

Coach Jim Collie, who owns one of the nation's top college coaching records, was faced with a rebuilding effort as he lost three important regulars to graduation. Illinois State opened the season with two holdover starters Tom Taulbee and Tom Cirks. Before the season was three weeks old, Cirks was lost with a severely injured ankle. Four seniors started for State, guard Blaine Royer becoming the leading scorer for the quintet, and guard Mike Green the second leading scorer and the all-important play-maker for the squad. Taulbee received rebounding support from Bob Rath, and sophomore

Jerry Crabtree overcame injuries to fill in as a guard or forward whenever needed, displaying his versatile ability to shoot and rebound. Illinois State was behind in a bid for a third straight conference title because of an early season loss to Eastern. The Panthers simply outplayed and outscored the Redbirds. Western Illinois upset the panthers run for the title, as it looked like the Birdies' chances for a third crown were over. ISU was able to earn at least a share of the IIAC basketball crown by beating Eastern in a return match 92-77. Taulbee came through with fifteen rebounds and twenty-one points. Royer had twenty-two points, which was high for the game, and Rath had fifteen rebounds in the inspired play against EIU. I-State earned a third straight regional appearance and took a 17-9 record into play, including firsts in two of three tournaments on its schedule. During the regular season ISU won the Intercollegiate, the Hatter Invitational Tourney, and went on to garner another first in the all-important regional play at Valparaiso, which entitled them to another appearance at Evansville.

Bright Future for Young Cagers

A younger edition of the Redbird basketball team also ran up an impressive winning record for their competitive season. The Baby Birds had the necessary ingredients for a successful campaign combining power and balance to good advantage. In his second year at ISU, Coach Dale Cruse's charges were undefeated in the first half of their season entirely against Junior College teams. The team was downed finally by Bradley; during the contest against the Braves Frank Reed, who had broken into the starting line-up for two games, suffered a broken arm. Willie Williams led the team in both scoring and rebounding categories with a 19 point and 10.1 rebound average. There were four other players besides Williams in double figures and another just two-tenths of a point off that mark. Top scorers behind Williams included Myron Litwiller with a 14.4 average; Steve Williams with a 11.3 average; Mike Payne, who averaged 10.4 points a game; and Bob Esslinger with a 9.8 average. The team averaged 88.3 points a game and scored more than 100 points five times during the year.

A young gymnastic squad dominated by freshmen and sophomores, who provided power and depth, became one of the strongest in the twelve year history of the sport at Illinois State. The team opened the season with a 156.9-140 win over Northern Illinois, racking up the highest score for an ISU team ever in competition. They lost the second meet of the season though, to a fine Indiana

State team, which ranks as a gymnastic power in the NCAA. Coach Wayne Truex's charges spent their Christmas vacation in Florida attending a clinic and workshop, which helped to season the youthful competitors. Outstanding performances were given as the gymnastics team went on to capture the conference title with a score of 140.975 over Western Illinois, who finished a distant second with a score of 127.025. Ron Bauer successfully defended his conference domination of the high bar. Other ISU conference champs included Jack Finch on the parallel bars and Mike McAuley on the trampoline. Sophomore captain Art Weidner and freshman Al Galatte, both of I-State, tied for the All-Around title.

The swimming team had its best season in the history of the sport at Illinois State.

The NCAA rule which allowed freshmen to compete in varsity competition added additional tankers to form a team which had three or four men battling for each position.

Coach Archie Harris had such depth and balance on his team, as well as talent, that he could shift his line-up and move swimmers to different events and use his depth to good advantage.

Captain Rich Higgins was one of the few seniors on the young squad and his leadership and ability proved to be an asset to the team. Higgins was also the only Interstate Intercollegiate champion on the team in his event of diving.

The team improved their season record to 11-3. The State tankers have never won a conference title. Three years ago they came close, but lost out in the final event.

WRESTLING

Best in Conference

The wrestling team gained its fifth title in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference since 1964. In their pursuit of the title the grapplers of State were led by Rick Mann and Bill Meyers, two returning conference champions. As captain of the squad, Mann provided a sparkling example for his teammates as he compiled a 7-6-2 record and retained his individual conference title. Meyers had a 15-2-1 record and also successfully defended his IIAC championship. He led the Redbirds in take downs with 29. Other outstanding performances for the year were turned in by Fred Beilfuss, Steve Poznansky, and Dean Jacobsen. Beilfuss led the team in pins with 8 as he racked up a 15-4-2 record for himself and gained a conference title. Poznansky had a 4-8-1 record and a second place finish in the conference meet. Jacobsen had a 10-8-1 record and also gained second place honors in the IIAC. Freshmen were allowed to compete on the varsity for the first time in four years and they provided part of the winning element of the team. Frosh performers who shone during competition were John Bates, Tom Hannah, and Scott Jacobs. Bates won eleven straight matches for State and went on to earn a conference title. Hannar compiled an 11-10 record and an IIAC championship. Jacobs posted a 10-3-1 record and finished second in IIAC competition. The Redbirds had an 8-5-1 dual meet record. The team did not win consistently at the start of the season but came on strong after beating Ball State and Bowling Green in a round-robin tourney in Muncie, Indiana, during January. The high point of the season came as ISU won the conference title, beating a previously undefeated Central Michigan team in the process. CMU had defeated State earlier in the season.

INDOOR TRACK

Youthful Thinclads Show Promise

Redbird runner takes the hand-off and the lead in the relay.

A split view of broadjumping form.

Illinois State's indoor track team was completely dominated by youth. Only three members of the squad were seniors. The team was well balanced overall but depth was lacking. Five members of the team, all sophomores and juniors, performed consistently well throughout the indoor season. Included in this group were captain Ron Laeske, who ran in both hurdles events; Ken Carlson, who ran the half-mile; Tony Edgecomb, who ran the distance events; highjumper, Larry Spencer; and weightman, Joe Scarpino. Among a fourteen team field in the first competition of the year the Illinois Intercollegiate Meet, Laeske captured a second in the intermediate hurdles and a fourth place in the highs, and Doug Malinsky came in first in the long jump and fifth in the triple jump to help lead ISU to a fifth place finish. A flu virus hampered the team in the ISU Invitational, but Carlson brightened the day by breaking a Horton Fieldhouse and ISU record in the 880 yard run with a time of 1:55.2. Laeske was a double winner for State with first in both hurdle events. In a quadrangular meet near the end of the indoor season, the Redbirds broke a Horton and ISU record for the most points scored in a meet by racking up 131 against Illinois Wesleyan, Chicago Circle, and Wheaton. State captured first in all of the event but one. Eastern Illinois was highly regarded to retain its conference title, but ISU was also considered as strong competition for the Panthers. Central Michigan was the dark horse of the meet but the Chippewas came out on top with 93 points. Eastern was second with 66.5 points and ISU third with 45.5 points. Illinois State had good performance from Carlson, who established a new IIAC record in his half-mile event; Laeske, who tallied a first in the 70 yard intermediate hurdles and a third place in the 70 yard highs; Spencer, who won the high jump event; and Larry Wauthier, who was first in the 70 yard dash.

Outstanding performances by underclassmen helped the ISU track and field team gain respect in the eyes of their opponents. Good showings by individuals did not make up for the lack of depth on the squad, but Coach Roger Weller's recruiting program is beginning to pay dividends as the younger members of the team scored point after point in competition. The highlight of the outdoor season came as the Redbirds captured the Illinois Intercollegiate meet. It was the first major track championship for the school in several years. Don Rumery and Larry Wauthier had the honor of leading their school to the state college meet triumph.

Their performances in the 220 yard dash and the mile relay proved to be the turning point for ISU. ISU could do no better than third in the Interstate Conference meet as Central Michigan University totaled a record breaking 120 points to run away with its fifth straight title. State was paced in the meet by sophomore hurdler Ron Zaeske who set the meet's only record, winning the 440 yard intermediate hurdles in 53.6 seconds. Zaeske also finished second in the 120 yard high hurdles. Sophomores accounted for at least half of the top performances turned in by ISU trackmen led by Zaeske, who was the top point getter on the team.

BASEBALL

Second IIAC Title In Three Years

Steady fielding and hitting Steve Heaton was the regular Redbird second baseman.

Illinois State's baseball team made it into the magic 20 victory circle for the third straight year. The Redbirds closed out their 27-7 season by winning the Interstate Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference crown and by finishing third in the Mid-East Regional Tournament in Jackson, Tennessee. The Redbirds started off the year with an 8-3 record during a spring trip through the south. ISU went on to win eight consecutive conference games before losing the IIAC finale to Eastern Illinois University. In post season competition in the regional tourney, I-State lost the opener 3-2 in eleven innings to Middle Tennessee. The Redbirds came back in the double-elimination contest by beating Wittenberg 8-2, but hopes of winning a second straight regional title fell by the wayside as Coach Bass's squad came up against Middle Tennessee again and were shut out 6-0. Although the team placed third in the tournament, three Redbirds were named to the All-Tournament team on the basis of their fine performances, Steve Heaton at second base, Dick Conrad at third base and Buzz Capra as pitcher.

Larry Hallaert was named the team's Most Valuable Player. He had been listed as a pitcher on the previous year's roster, but became the team's regular right-fielder and led the team in hitting with a .375 batting average. On the mound the lefthanded junior had a 5-1 record, which included two one-hitters. Pitchers Buzz Capra and Jim Campbell, who was making a comeback after being troubled by a sore arm, led the mound corps with winning records of 7-1 each. Capra's ERA of 1.41 and 87 strikeouts were also high totals for the ISU squad. Captain Dick Conrad finished second with a batting mark of .370. Other bright spots for the Redbirds included the performances of Bob Breitzman and Dave Trayser, both sophomores who have bright futures ahead of them at Illinois State. Trayser filled in behind the plate to give regular catcher Brian Wisher a rest and did more than an adequate job. Breitzman, originally an infielder, made the conversion to the outfield in order to crack the Redbird line-up and proved to be an asset defensively and offensively with his bat.

With only one senior on the squad, Illinois State's golf team successfully defended their IIAC crown as they racked up an impressive record of 29 wins, only 8 losses and one tie. The Redbirds' schedule was tough and they faced many major universities during the season. ISU had to come from behind as they won their second consecutive Interstate Conference championship, but in doing so they won by 26 strokes and set a record 1,505 score for the 72 hole meet at Silver

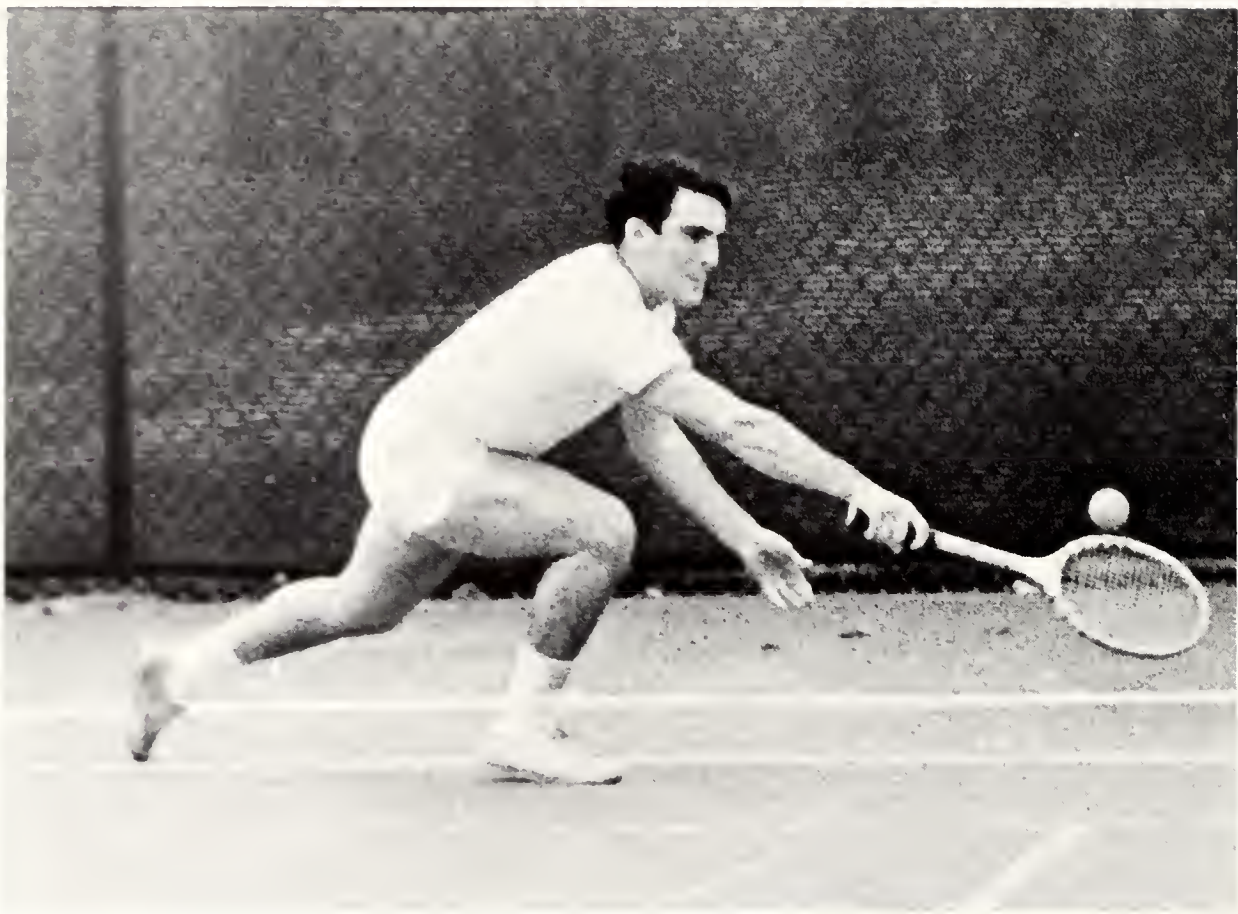

Lake Country Club, Orlando Park. The Redbirds were sparked to victory by Frank Niepagan's second place finish and Bob Lawrence, who finished third in the tourney playing his best rounds of the season with a 297. Other Redbirds who placed high in the competition included Tom Jacobsen, who finished sixth; Rick Boynton, who tied for eighth; Greg Gilroy, who finished in tenth place; and Joe Plack, who tied for seventeenth. The Illinois State team had beaten their best score of the season by 55 strokes and had broken Western Illinois University's 14 out of 18 year dominance of the tournament by winning two consecutive titles. The I-State golfers also made a fine showing after the regular season was over. In post-season play the team tied for eighth place in a field of 21 teams in the NCAA College Division Tournament in Beaumont, Texas.

Redbirds Win IIAC Title

A backhand shot rebounds from the racket of Dan McNamara.

Coach Eugene Hill's young and relatively inexperienced tennis squad surprised many observers as they overcame a disappointing start and went on to win their first Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title since 1964. The Redbird netters compiled a 10-6 record overall, winning their last three dual meets in a row before capping off their campaign with the conference title. Steve W. Price made the difficult move up to the number one position from the number three position and his come from behind victory in the opening conference match was the turning point for the Redbirds on their way to victory. Price also had an impressive victory in the finals as he shut out his opponent 6-0, 6-0. The ISU tennis team dethroned Eastern Illinois, which had held the title for three years running. In accumulating their victory total of 13 points, the Redbirds took five of six singles championships and tacked on an all-important doubles title. Four other Redbirds won individual titles, Roger Jenks at position number two, Rich Gutierrez at number three, Dan McNamara at number five and Steve E. Price at number six. McNamara and Steve E. Price won ISU doubles crown.

INTRAMURALS

Friendly Competition

Members of the Trojan House fight for the ball.

The purpose of intramurals is to give the student an opportunity to have fun, get some exercise, and come to know his fellow students better. Under the direction of Dr. Hill and assisted by Mr. Fred, the Men's Intramural program is designed to provide opportunities for students to learn new sports and new skills. This program is planned in order that members may secure maximum benefit from instruction through voluntary participation. The most popular sports are the team sports. There are 1600 participants who make up 159 basketball teams; 1100 participants who form 55 football teams; 1200 participants who form 65 softball teams; 500 participants who form 50 volleyball teams; and 475 participants who compose 60 bowling teams. However, the men are not the only ones to enjoy intramural activities. The women participate in various athletic competitions under the direction of WRA, Women's Recreational Association. Events scheduled for the women's intramurals are basketball, volleyball, softball, badminton, field hockey, golf, and swimming. In both Men's and Women's intramurals awards are given the winning individuals or teams, whichever the case may be. A trophy is awarded to the individual, dorm floor, off-campus house, and floor chairman with the highest number of points in the Men's Intramural activities. In the Women's Intramural activities, trophies are awarded to the tourney winners of each sport.

REDBIRD ROOTERS

ISU Pep Section

The 850 members of the Illinois State Redbird Rooters have added color, excitement, and spirit to all home football games and this year for the first time at our home basketball games. The card section presented delightful formations depicting various themes. Aside from their major activity, forming the block, the Redbird Rooters were active in other activities. At the beginning of the season, they sponsored a kick-off pep rally and dance. They were also in charge of the Bone Victory Bell and sponsored the election of the Bell Ringer. The Redbird Rooters this year sponsored a Winter Sports Preview, something new at Illinois State. This gave our students a look into the winter sports in which our Redbirds participate, such as swimming, basketball, wrestling, and gymnastics.

Honor residents have to give much of their time to help others in their dorms. Thus a number of upper class girls live in the freshman dormitories, Atkin-Colby and Hamilton-Whitten, in order to give guidance to the freshmen. To accomplish this, the HRs had pumpkin and Christmas carolings, held a Christmas party for the dorms in which they had religious readings and a not so serious skit. In addition to the fun side of things, they provided needed orientation services and served as advisors to various dorm councils. In most activities, the HRs of the four dorms worked together as one group.

STUDENT SENATE

Student Power

One of the major roles of this year's Student Senate was to demonstrate to the administration and the student body that Senate has become a more responsible group. They have been striving to get greater student participation in ISU's government. Among their achievements this year, Student Senate has helped to institute a pass-fail grading system at ISU, abolish the age limit for apartments, establish a membership on the Academics Standards Committee, and voice opinions to the Board of Regents on the writing of the ISU Constitution.

INDEX The Year in Capsule

Catching and collecting many aspects of life at ISU, the Index staff worked to compile a book that showed the activity and enthusiasm characteristic at the "Home of the Redbirds." Endless interest, imagination, and effort came from the eight qualified editors and thirty efficient staff members who plowed through reams of paper work. While editors planned, organized, and corrected all yearbook pages, staff members diligently completed picture-cropping and perfecting copy. Heading production of this tremendous piece of work was Editor-in-Chief Tom Best, whose job started early in the summer of 1968. The necessary challenges were accepted by the entire staff who worked together to produce the 1968-69 Index — an expression of one year in words and pictures.

VIDETTE

Campus Communication

In striving for an intellectual approach for accurate, honest, and widespread campus coverage, this year's Vidette staff initiated and encouraged thought-provoking newspaper articles. Writers urged the faculty and students to express their opinions on school events and policies. Cartoons depicted campus and national politics, and the editorials often proved to bring attitudes "into the open." The work that needed completion to publish two issues per week was distributed between editors, reporters, photographers, and additional staff members. Even though the staff was composed of nearly fifty intern journalists, each person strove to achieve the goal of producing a bi-weekly, newsworthy, informative, and interesting student newspaper.

INTER-HALL COUNCIL

Representatives from the fourteen university residence halls gathered to hold discussions as the Inter-Hall Council. The committee strove to unify and strengthen residence halls. Traditional services included meal exchanges and the publication of a faculty list. A recent addition to the council's services, an intergroup relations panel, held discussions concerning recent problems on the campus. National Residence Hall Week proved to provide an interesting and entertaining program to aid residence hall students. Persons displaying outstanding leadership were honored at a banquet in April.

CO-OP COUNCIL

Desiring a better understanding between the thirteen off-campus cooperative houses, the Co-op Council served as a service and social coordinator and mediating body. During Co-op Week, the houses furnished showcase exhibits of photo albums and representatives came to answer questions at the Lobby Shop. Lunch day, Game day, and exchange dinners gave participants an excellent opportunity to meet for fun and enjoyment. Snowball fights, push-mobile, and go-cart races provided for the seemingly never-ending spontaneous fun activities. This year the co-ops held a winter formal and participated in the annual Stunt Show.

UNIVERSITY MEN'S CLUB

The University Men's Club has as its main purpose to be a service organization. The projects for the year included Scholarship Grants, De Young Lecture Series and a contribution of $100 to the University Varsity Club.

ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN STUDENTS

Helping women to identify their responsibilities in society is the main purpose of AWS. Another aim of this campus organization, open to all ISU women, is to provide services that other organizations do not provide in educational, vocational, and cultural activities. Mother's Weekend held in May, Women's Week, and a White Racism Symposium were several of the projects sponsored by the Association of Women Students.

WGLT Communication

A WGLT engineer spins another record.

WGLT is the ISU radio station. This small station, which broadcasts in the Bloomington-Normal area, is affiliated with the National Education Radio Network. WGLT broadcasts on a FM station and through carrier current; students on campus may listen to it on their AM station. As a service to the community and campus, WGLT provides sports coverage for all the ISU varsity football, basketball, and baseball games. They also try to broadcast all possible Freshman games. With a staff of over seventy active members, WGLT provides several regular features, such as "The Student Senate Report" and the "BBC World Report." A regular semi-professional show is the "Mutton Jeff" Show. Through "Spotlight," WGLT airs the opinions of the ISU Student Body on controversial issues. Many students enjoy "Nightflight," a light listening music program featuring a nightly request line.

UNIVERSITY UNION BOARD

Recreation and Education

By attempting to mix new and traditional ideas, the University Union Board presented a challenging program of educational and recreational activities for all students. Interested faculty and student participants joined in at the frequent "Fireside Chats." Active people exhibited their skills at the many games, tournaments, and dances that were scheduled. Due to the board's efforts, an evergreen spangled with bright lights lent significant beauty to the center quadrangle during the Christmas weeks. The board sponsored a political cartoon contest and a series of the Godard French films. Highlighting the year's activities, a week of celebration culminating in a birthday party was held in recognition of the Union's thirteenth birthday.

DAMES CLUB

Striving to promote the social and cultural advancement of members, the ISU Dames Club heard guest speakers discuss such topics as child abuse and home economics. They also viewed a film on child birth. Members attended family get-togethers, including potluck dinners and a picnic during the year.

A lot of students seem to prefer to not use the sidewalks.

ENGLISH CLUB

Among the many activities of the English Club this year, there was a dramatic presentation of some of the works of Robert Browning. The club also sponsored a reading of Ibsen's Ghosts by students of Northwestern University. There were also various lecturers and trips to the University of Illinois theatre.

FILM CLUB

In its first full year, the ISU Film Society concentrated on presenting films which exhibited some artistry in their production. These films included foreign and experimental films and ranged from silent to present day ones. Following the films, discussions were held to enable club members to express their opinions of the films.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club brings together students and teachers of German in an informal atmosphere in which to practice the language. This year the Counsel of the West German government spoke to the group and to other interested persons. Also featured this year were films from the German theatre.

SHUFFLIN SHOES

Illinois Collegiate Co-ed Danceshop for Illinois colleges was held in November at ISU. The Shufflin Shoes Club was set up as a recreational dance club to allow students to get away from studies for some fun. Meetings were held on Wednesday nights at McCormick. One of the highlights of this year was their Annual Cowboy Christmas Ball.

ISU SPORTS PARACHUTISTS

The ISU Sports Parachutists, which was organized this year, served the purpose of promoting the sport of parachuting and providing facilities for the sport. The club held week-end jumpings in Pekin. They also sponsored an Interstate Collegiate meet this spring.

SPECIAL EDUCATION CLUB

The spirit of Christmas was reflected in the Special Ed Club's annual Christmas Workshop. Students majoring in Special Ed made toys which were distributed by the Salvation Army to under-privileged children. As a service group the members became involved in other community projects such as making visits to the elderly women's home and have a Fun Night for the handicapped children twice a month.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Election 1968 was a key issue of the Young Democrats at ISU. These young men and women campaigned for their candidates and planned a week of election activities including a campus-wide election for ISU students with the help of the Young Republicans. Lt. Gov. Paul Simon was one of their guest speakers for this year.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

The Young Republicans, in order to advance the idea of Republicanism, did precinct work and canvassing here in McLean County prior to the November election. Members of the club attended a rally for Nixon in Marion, Illinois. This year the club sent members to the State Republican Convention.

The State Convention of the Illinois Baptist Student Unions was attended at ISU by over 200 delegates. This religious organization is open to members of all denominations for the purpose of fellowship between religions. Students met on Tuesday nights for Vespers, and they had opportunities to pray together and to study the Bible. The pastor of the Vale St. Baptist Church was available for guidance.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club is the Episcopal students group at Illinois State. This year the group sponsored a pot-luck supper every Sunday night after 5:30 Mass and also provided a special Eastern Orthodox Mass for the Illinois State students of the Eastern faith who have no church representative here.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

As an organization on campus, Christian Fellowship aims to present the claims of Christ in a clear and understandable manner. To this end, they held Fall and Spring conferences, socials, and a lecture series that featured noted speakers from other campuses.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

The purpose of the Christian Science Organization at ISU is to make the student body aware of the Christian Science doctrine. This awareness is brought about by participation in Round-Up and by holding weekly meetings and featuring films and lectures in the campus religious center.

THE PRESIDENT

In his second year as president of Illinois State University, Dr. Samuel E. Braden has performed functions which vary from head of the university to distinguished member of the community. Dr. Braden serves as a representative of the university to the Board of Regents, the Board of Higher Education, and other national and state educational organizations. He was named chairman of the Council on International Educational Exchange and travels frequently, making speeches to groups concerned with education. In addition, President Braden generally supervises the financial budgeting of Illinois State and often meets with faculty and student groups. He also finds time to meet with individual students by appointment or during a Thursday afternoon "student hour" to discuss and debate the problems which arise in higher education.

VICE-PRESIDENTS

The five Vice-Presidents of the University and President Braden comprise a council known as the Presidency. Aside from each of their individual responsibilities, these five men work as a unit on making many of the policies for Illinois State. They act on major decisions and work on the budget. Because of their extended duties outside of their specific areas, each vice-president has at least one assistant. The Presidency, which meets once a week, works closely with such things as the new union, newly proposed academic buildings, new dorms, and other campus developments.

DEANS AND DIRECTORS

The Deans and Directors of ISU comprise the student personnel program, which makes available to the campus services of a personal, social, and academic nature. The Student Deans are concerned with all facets of student life. It is through these deans that the students of ISU can achieve a voice and a part in campus affairs. The directors of ISU supervise services which provide other conveniences for students and faculty.

COLLEGE OF APPLIED SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

This was the second year for the College of Applied Science and Technology and everything seems to be running smoothly. Organizational as well as philosophical changes were made in all three departments in order to keep pace with all of the rapid changes and developments in each area. The Industrial Technology Department has continued to acquire new machines that improve quantity and quality of work. A shift from an exclusive teacher education program was activated in the Department of Agriculture. To meet rapid change, the Department of Home Economics moved its emphasis toward interdisciplinary programs involving the individual in society as well as in the home.

Harvey S. Woods,
Head of the Department of Agriculture.

Blossom Johnson,
Acting Head of the Department of Home Economics.

AGRICULTURE

As part of a growing concern for the needs of agriculture students in newly developing areas, the staff of the Agriculture Department met weekly to develop a wider choice of courses in the department, as well as to make improvements in the courses already established. The department is also responsible for the upkeep of the university farm, which provides agriculture students with very valuable experience and an excellent on-campus area for experimentation in the field.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department concerns itself with the acquiring of home skills and the teaching of the same. Besides its usual activities, such as supplying students with placement in the Rambo Home Management House, where all senior home economics students must live for a period of nine weeks, the department held several workshops and lectures which featured guest lecturers from all over the state.

Roger D. Blomgren,
Acting Head of Department of Industrial Technology

INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY

The Department of Industrial Technology offers students and future teachers the opportunity to learn and experiment with the industrial machinery they will be involved with after graduation. Printing presses, milling machines, computers, automotive mechanics, and wood-working machinery are among those available to the students. Many university services are completed by students with the aid of these machines.

MEN'S HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Men's Health and Physical Education Department, in keeping with its purposes, has held several clinics and workshops throughout the year. Last summer, the department held a Coach's Workshop for high school coaches, treating the subject of sports injuries with some depth. It also held a baseball clinic for college and high school coaches on February 15th, which featured two highly successful baseball coaches and two men with experience in professional baseball.

Arley F. Gillett,
Head of Department of Men's Health and Physical Education.

Phebe Scott,
Head of Department of Health and Physical Education for Women.

WOMEN'S HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Department of Health and Physical Education for Women sponsored its annual Orchesis Concert and Varunas Swim Show. Last summer, the department was host to a federally financed institute in dance for men, which proved to be very successful. Various workshops, clinics, and lectures were held for teachers and students interested in problems and techniques in physical education.

Stanley Shuman,
Acting Dean of College of Arts and Sciences.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Under the administration of an acting dean, the College of Arts and Sciences has made great strides in adding to and revising its curriculum. The college has brought to reality, a comprehensive major in arts and sciences for the student whose interests are too varied for a single discipline. Under the comprehensive major, the student is better able to decide his own academic destiny. Fifteen areas of study—Biology, Chemistry, Economics, English, Foreign Languages, Geography, History, Library Science, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology, Political Science, Socio-Anthropology, and Speech—are under the guidance of Stanley Shuman, who is temporarily dean of the college. The College Council, composed of elected faculty representatives, has selected committees to keep college functions running smoothly.

R. Omar Rilett,
Head of Department of Biological Sciences.

Bernard L. Ryder,
Head of Department of Chemistry.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Besides making additions to the staff and curriculum, the Biology Department has been quite active in research. This was the year of the transplant and many ISU biology professors have been involved in study and research for these transplants. Seminars and lectures on the subject were held, and many graduate students were able to start and continue their research through the facilities provided by the biology labs.

CHEMISTRY

The Chemistry Department has continued its research with the use of several new pieces of equipment acquired recently, which aid in the collection of data and general knowledge. Chemistry students have benefited from the facilities of the department in starting and completing their studies in the field. Several curriculum changes were activated with the fall semester.

ECONOMICS

With the emphasis in the entire university being placed on the transition to liberal arts, the Economics Department has reset its gears. By introducing new courses and revamping old ones, the department has met the demands of business, government, and students. It sponsored a series of lectures which featured guest speakers as well as ISU economics professors.

ENGLISH

The English Department began the year with a new chairman who attempted to unify the department with the establishment of a newsletter. Two new additions were made in the curriculum with the beginning of an all-university journalism minor and an Afro-American literature course which was designed to emphasize the Negro in literature and history. The department also maintained a writing center, located in the Freshman English Department.

Warren R. Harden,
Head of Department of Economics.

Henry Adams,
Head of Department of English.

Public school administrators from all parts of Illinois gather in Horton to discuss "Social Unrest" at the Administrators' Roundup in December.

Thomas E. Comfort,
Head of Department of Foreign Languages.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The Foreign Language Department of ISU acquired a new language laboratory this year. The lab is set up to aid students in their studies, perfecting accents and grammar by repetition and listening. Illinois State, in conjunction with Indiana State University and the University of Grenoble, is offering a French studies program abroad next year for French students who wish to take the opportunity to learn in residency.

GEOGRAPHY-GEOLOGY

The Geography-Geology Department has spent much time this year expanding its curriculum to meet the two-fold purpose of its title. Many new courses have been added to meet student demands and the department in general has continued its spread throughout Schroeder Hall. Many displays on the first floor interest passing students, who can watch geography-geology in action. Some of these displays include rocks and minerals and the weather instruments in the basement of Schroeder.

HISTORY

The History Department has continued its rapid expansion with more and more students majoring in the field. It has made additions of courses, including a new humanities course that was offered to the students during the second semester. Lectures, featuring guest lecturers and faculty members, also highlighted the year.

John E. Trotter,
Head of Department of Geography-Geology.

Roger J. Champagne,
Head of Department of History.

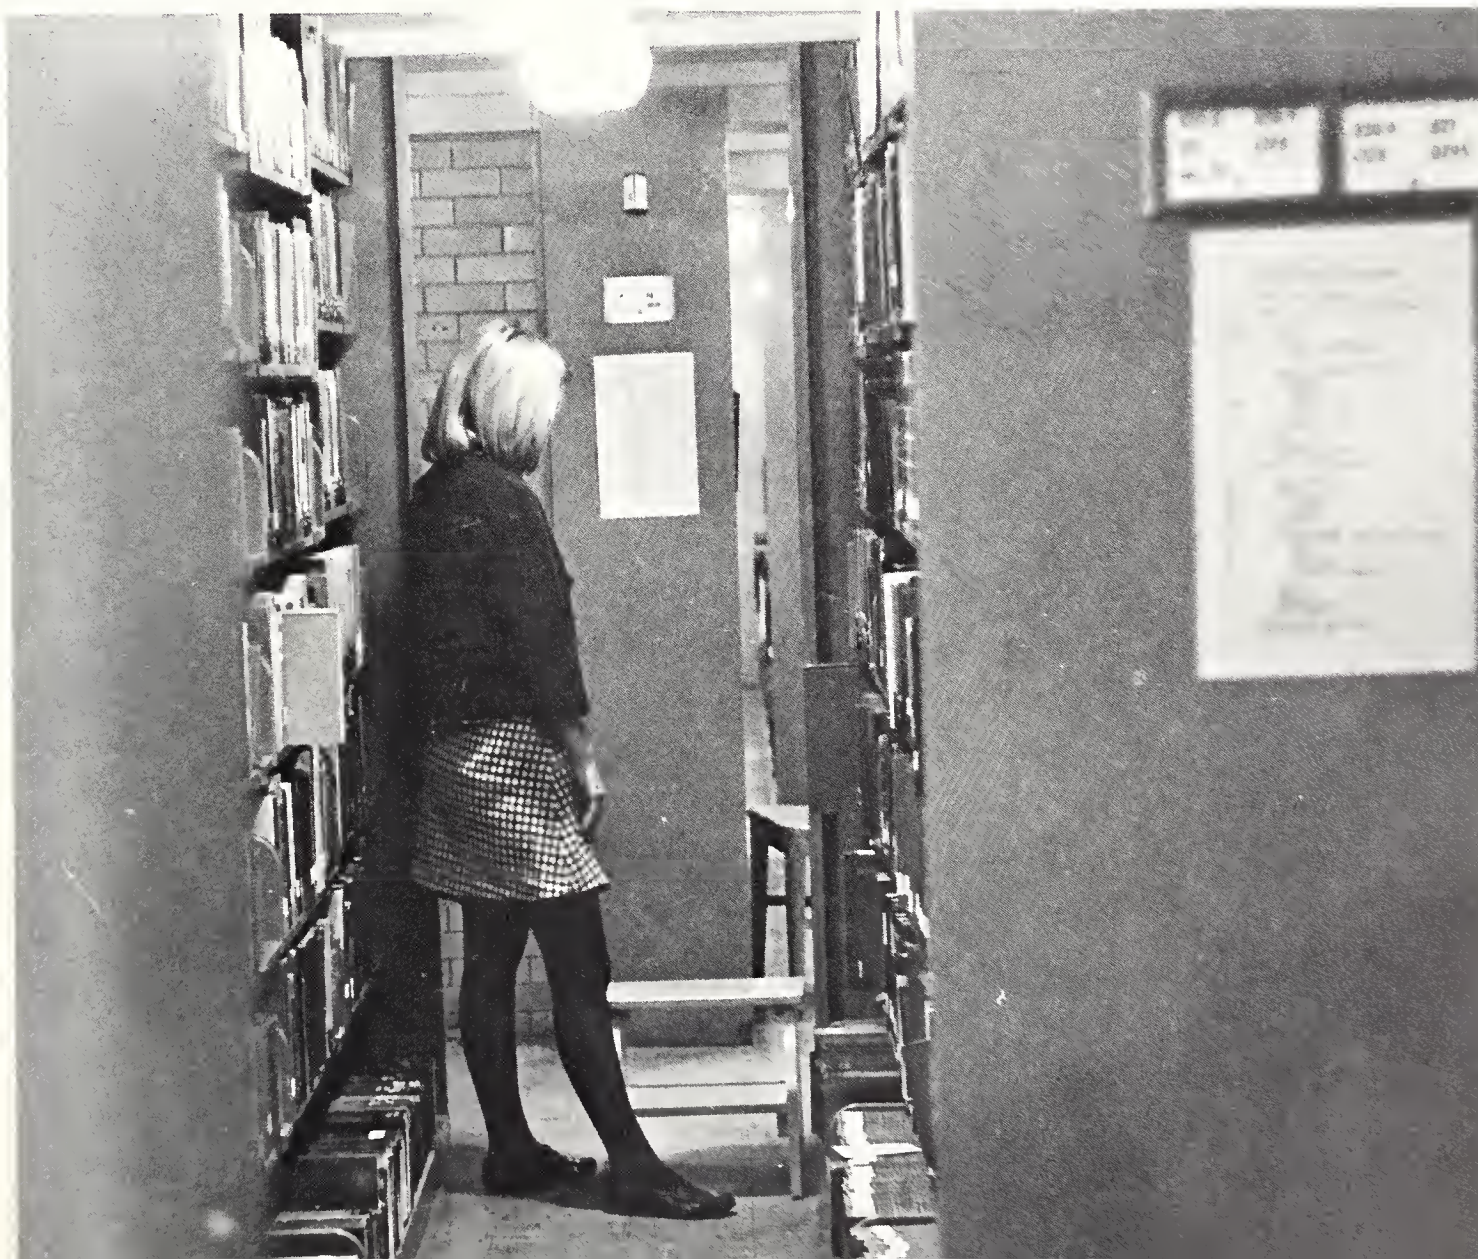

Joe W. Kraus,
Head of Department of Library Science.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

The Department of Library Science underwent major evaluation this year and was found to need some improvements. Consequently, library officials have been making plans for a new library building to be located on the north side of College Avenue, across from the Hall of Science. The library also acquired a teletypewriter designed to link its resources with other libraries in Illinois and major libraries throughout the nation.

A coed stalks the stacks in search of authoritative materials.

MATHEMATICS

The Mathematics Department of ISU still ranks high among the producers of mathematics teachers. This year, the department held student teaching seminars for student teachers in math, and sponsored many lectures by visiting mathematicians, and ISU faculty members. The department's big project is involved in summer institutes for teachers of lower division college math. One held last summer proved successful, and another scheduled for this summer, looks hopeful.

PHILOSOPHY

The Department of Philosophy has made great strides this year from a minute institution to a blossoming discipline. Philosophy, one of ISU's newest departments, acquired new faculty members and course offerings. Philosophy now offers a major field as well as a minor field and is still expanding to meet the interests of the students.

Clyde T. McCormick,
Head of Department of Mathematics.

Kenneth Kennard,
Head of Department of Philosophy

PHYSICS

The Physics Department has added several new courses to its curriculum and has continued to maintain a high standard of achievement in research. Faculty members gave lectures to campus groups as well as public school groups that came to ISU to utilize the opportunity afforded in the planetarium. Several staff members have begun research projects in the fields of nuclear physics and electricity.

Harold J. Born,
Head of Department of Physics.

Students and counselors check and recheck registration schedules.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Students of political science were able to watch their discipline in action this year with the Presidential elections. The Political Science Department made an attempt to keep up with change and current events by evaluating the new courses and their effect on faculty and students. Seminars were held, and speakers, both from ISU and other parts of the state, were enlightening.

PSYCHOLOGY

The Department of Psychology has continued its growth with the addition of new staff members and new courses. One such course, a general education requirement, was experimentally made into a radio course whereby students could enroll and participate by listening to radio lectures and phoning in their questions. The Course added a new twist to learning and was not without its problems, but was well worth the effort made by faculty members.

Alice L. Ebel, Head of Department of Political Science.

Walter H. Friedhoff, Head of Department of Psychology.

Vernon C. Pohlmann, Head of Department of Sociology-Anthropology.

Charles A. White, Head of Department of Speech.

SOCIOLOGY- ANTHROPOLOGY

The Department of Sociology-Anthropology is still expanding its curriculum and expanding its staff, offering many opportunities for students majoring in or interested in the field. The department held several lectures by guest speakers and sponsored some seminars within the department staff. It also continued its field school opportunities at Dixon Mounds.

SPEECH

The Speech Department added a new major to its roster this year with the field of radio and TV. The new major offers interested students background to and experience in this young discipline. The department also extended its curriculum and space with the formulation of several new theatre organizations, the rejuvenation of available space, and the addition of the Mabel Clare Allen Theatre.

Robert V. Mitchell, Dean of the College of Business.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

The year 1968 saw the College of Business in its second year of existence. The college is supervised for the first time by a full-time dean, Robert Mitchell. The three departments of the college are the Department of Business Administration, the Department of Business Education, and the Department of Accounting. The College of Business was introduced to meet the rapidly increasing need for accountants and managerial trainees in fields of marketing, finance, and administration. All three departments are making plans for interdisciplinary education with other departments, much of which is already in effect. The department is still planning for a new building to meet its expanding needs.

Raymond W. Esworthy, Head of Department of Accounting.

ACCOUNTING

The Department of Accounting has completed its second year as an academic field, and its first year under the supervision of a full-time department head. The accounting major program is a non-teaching program designed to provide the necessary course work essential to a career of professional accounting, including instruction in data processing.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

For its second year as a separate discipline, the Department of Business Administration offered a comprehensive major in business administration and a minor in general business. The department has expanded widely and has recruited many students who wish to specialize in this field. Some experimentation in techniques and efficiency have been carried out with success.

H. Earle Reese, Acting Head of Department of Business Administration

Business students take a look into the computer world.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Department of Business Education was the predecessor of the College of Business. The department, housed in Turner Hall, provides for students a distributive education room, an electronic shorthand room, a ten-tape channel secretarial practice laboratory, and a computer room, which was initially equipped with a computer and auxiliary machines. Since the formation of the College of Business, the department has been able to concentrate on the administration of its discipline more closely.

Warren S. Perry,
Head of the Department of Business Education.

Henry J. Hermanowicz, Dean of the College of Education.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The College of Education is one college very interested in the fact that ISU ranks seventh in the nation in production of certified teachers. The Departments of Elementary and Special Education are the two largest in terms of number of undergraduate student majors. The Department of Education offers courses for prospective teachers in secondary education. The Department of Educational Administration has the largest doctoral program in the university. All student teaching arrangements are taken care of by the Department of Professional Laboratory Experiences. Metcalf and University High also provide preparatory experience.

EDUCATION

The Department of Education once again sponsored its Tutorial project, and added to its list of schools Bloomington Junior High School, Normal Community High School, and Chiddix Junior High School. The University Reading Study Center operated for the benefit of students who wanted to improve their reading abilities.

EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

The Department of Educational Administration is the only department in the university whose students are exclusively graduate students. The Department has performed service functions throughout the area such as an annual survey of school districts who have cooperated to set up a field laboratory for graduate students, and individual staff members have served as consultants for numerous schools throughout the state.

Leo E. Eastman, Head of Department of Education.

Ben C. Hubbard, Head of Department of Educational Administration.

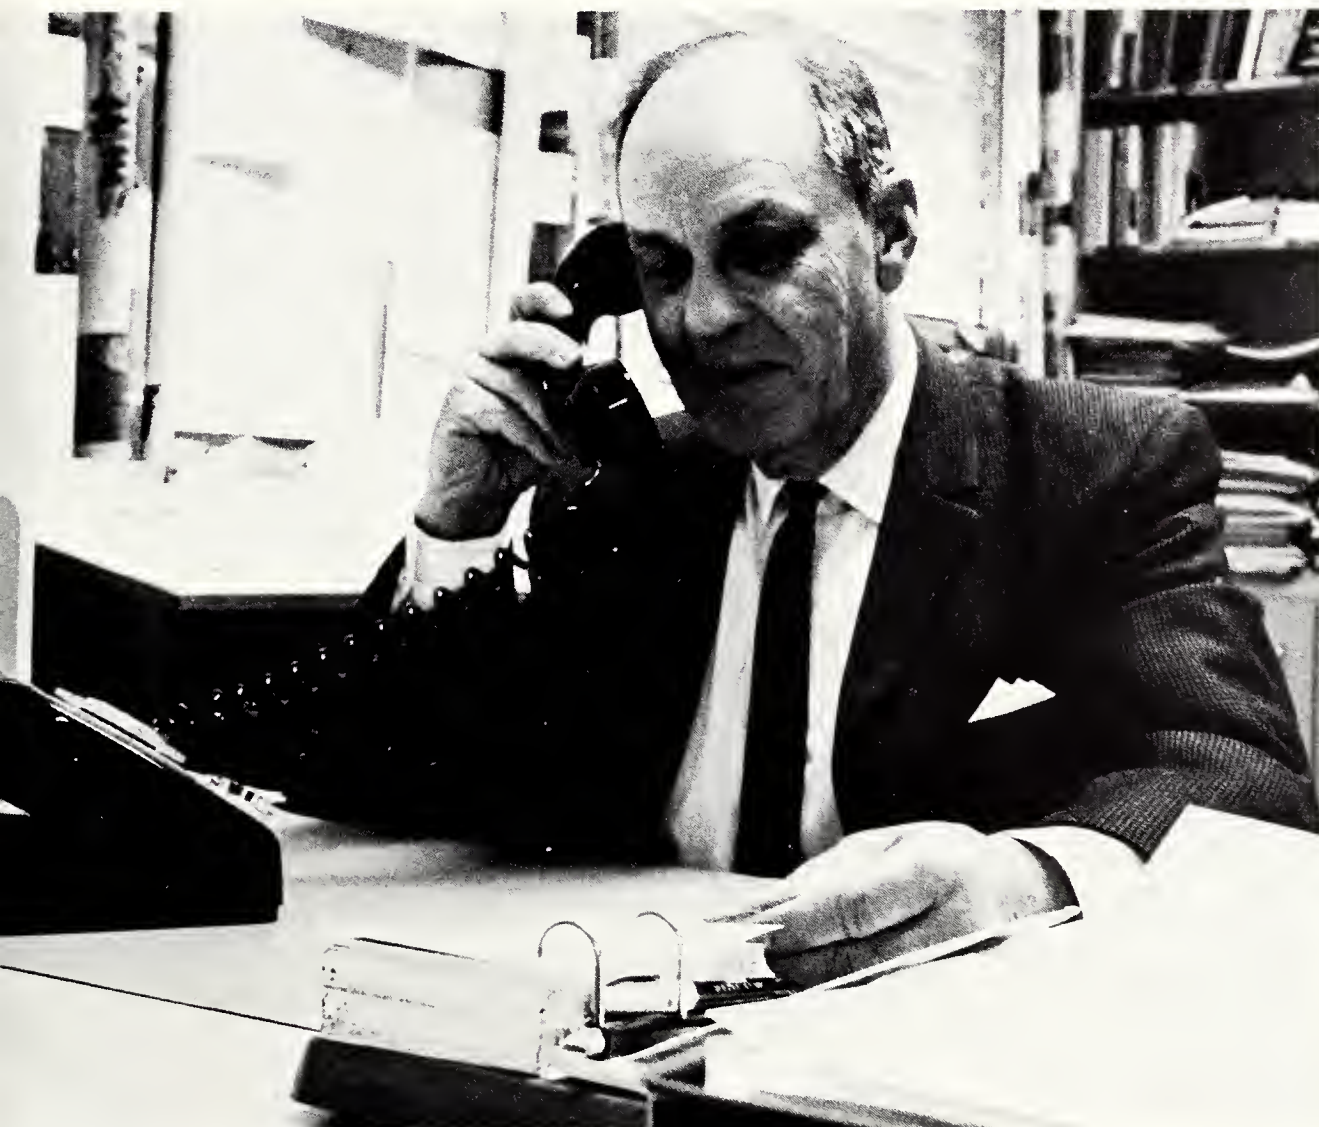

George M. Drew, Acting Head of Department of Elementary Education.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

In line with the university's growth, the Department of Elementary Education has developed a flexible undergraduate program designed to prepare students for team teaching, ungraded programs, and teaching in culturally deprived areas. Junior participation utilized Metcalf and other schools. The department has witnessed a change with a shift in department heads.

METCALF

Because of the growth of the college, Metcalf Elementary School formed a faculty committee for scheduling group observations instead of observing on an individual basis. The students at Metcalf provided university students with diverse experience in child study. Although the provision of pre-teacher teaching experience was greatly emphasized, the school still carried on its various experimental activities in learning about the learner.

Vernon L. Replogle, Director of Metcalf Elementary School.

One of the many facets of education—finding one's ID number.

PROFESSIONAL LABORATORY EXPERIENCES

Professional Laboratory Experiences provides a chance for the teacher education student to place himself at the teacher's desk. The student teacher has a chance to apply all of the knowledge he has learned in theory to the actual classroom experience. This student teaching experience is available for every undergraduate in education curricula. A student applies for a position in his junior year and does his actual teaching for nine weeks during his senior year.

Cecilia J. Lauby, Head of Department of Professional Laboratory Experiences.

Harold R. Phelps, Head of Department of Special Education.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

The Department of Special Education concentrated on curriculum development and improvement. It brought several guest speakers to campus and placed its many student teachers, who must teach for a full semester. Fairchild Hall, aided by the Departmental Speech Clinic and its Reading and Hearing Center, provided valuable laboratory experience for the students concerned with educating the handicapped.

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL

University High School, an institution of over seven hundred students, is equipped for student teaching and for laboratory experiences on the college level. Experimental programs and innovations in audio-visual aids are often used. There is a braille room and a center for the physically handicapped included in the school. This year, Secondary Education classes were required to observe, participate, and teach a lesson to a particular class assigned to them.

Harry D. Lovelass, Director of University High School.

Richard L. Desmond, Acting Dean of College of Fine Arts.

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

The year 1968 was the first that Illinois State saw a College of Fine Arts. Its two departments, art and music, were outgrowing themselves rapidly and established themselves as separate disciplines. Under the administration of Richard L. Desmond, the college has expanded itself considerably and is looking forward to new courses and more space in which to carry on its activities. Both departments have held workshops and clinics and have conducted several joint projects in the fine arts.

Frederick Mills, Head of the Department of Art.

Joseph M. Wilson, Head of the Department of Music.

ART

The Art Department, newly coordinated into the College of Fine Arts, has expanded its scope of courses and displays. Several displays were set up in the Centennial Building by guest artists and faculty members as well as students. Students were able to sell some of their projects at an art sale and auction held by the art department this year. The department also held several workshops.

MUSIC

Aside from the Music Department's usual activities of supplying the university with bands, choirs, concerts, and educated music students, it carried on several expansion activities that gave students and citizens a new perspective on life. The University Chorus produced a patriotic songfest, "Make Music, Not War." A New Music Clinic was conducted for band directors and interested students to arouse interest in the field of music.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

By applying through their major department, graduate students can obtain assistantships. Depending upon their qualifications, graduate assistants help instructors grade papers, take role, prepare bibliographies, lecture, and do research work. They can teach freshman courses provided they have had prior teaching experience or a Master's Degree. Some graduate assistants, especially those in guidance, counseling, or psychology, help dormitory supervisors in their work. These students also attend classes which are more advanced and specialized than undergraduate courses. Their class load is limited by the number of hours they work for their assistantships. To aid the graduate student in these activities, library carrels are assigned to provide privacy for their study and research.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORY BOARD

The Senior Advisory Board carried on various annual activities this year, including advising the Christmas charity Stuff-a-Stocking project and the sponsorship of the senior class gift to the university. It held several fund-raising dances and was coordinator for the outstanding student awards. The board found most of its attention focused, however, on coordination of the senior activities which culminated in graduation. The board sent letters concerning graduation announcements to all seniors and also planned commencement exercises.

JUNIOR ADVISORY BOARD

Having achieved recognition as underclassmen in academic and athletic fields, the juniors prepared to accept future challenges and responsibilities. They began to probe for new ideas and to search for meaningful solutions concerning ambitions and realistic goals. The Junior Advisory Board provided an excellent opportunity for junior students to participate as a class and discuss similar problems. The board contemplated a change in their system of activity. With assistance from this group, the junior class supported a foster child in Taiwan, distributed a class newsletter, placed third in the Homecoming float competition, and prepared for a Junior-Senior Prom.

SOPHOMORE CLASS ADVISORY BOARD

Throughout the past year, the Sophomore Class Advisory Board has lent its time and talent to service. The Board took responsibility for the Stuff-a-Stocking project, which was to raise money for the Victory Hall Boys' Home and the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's Home. The project was quite successful. Other fund-raising activities included the sponsorship of three dances, one of which featured the popular One-Eyed Jacks. In a lighter vein, the board of student petitioners sponsored the building of the Queen's float for Homecoming, which is traditionally a project of the Sophomore Class. It also held a hayride and cookout early in the fall to begin its activities for the 68-69 school year.

Registration finds students tired, frustrated, and broke.

Many anxious people await the posting of test grades to foresee how much they must study for the rest of the semester.

The best way to digest dinner is to read hometown news.

FRESHMAN CLASS ADVISORY BOARD

The representative of the freshman class, the freshman advisory board, coordinated the activities of the freshmen and strove to orient the freshman class with college activities. The board took over the responsibility for the traditional Stuff-A-

Stocking Drive, usually sponsored by the Junior Class Advisory Board. Aside from this fund-raising activity, the board also sponsored several dances to raise funds for the treasury for use in future years.
